

WA State Committee Event | Food and the Five Elements | 21 October 2018

Presented by Marianne Kornaat

Marianne will be talking about food and the five elements/seasons from a Chinese medicine perspective. She will discuss the importance of various foods and their relationship to seasons and elements in the treatment of various diseases. She will also demonstrate recipes by preparing food on site which can then be tasted by the participants.

Upon completion, participants will learn

- the importance of diet and nutrition in Chinese medicine
- the preparation of foods and the importance and relationship of herbs and foods in Chinese medicine.

About the presenter/s

Marianne holds a bachelor's degree in acupuncture, she furthered her studies with an internship in Japan and there she gained specialised knowledge about a less invasive, less painful form of needling. Under the guidance of several well-known Japanese acupuncturists she enhanced her diagnostic skills of stagnation and blockages of energy flow (qi). She also familiarised herself with meridian therapy, moxibustion and palpation techniques, which she uses in her practice.

Marianne Kornaat, a Dutch/Australian national was born in Hong Kong, where she spent her childhood emerged in Chinese culture. As an adult she lived in the Middle East, Asia and Africa. For the past 18 years she has settled in Perth. Currently she works at The Healing Rooms in Mindarie. She works together with a Western Medicine Doctor, Naturopath and other highly qualified therapists.

Marianne has treated young people with trauma under the supervision of physicians in the trauma and spinal ward at Shenton Park Rehabilitation Centre and currently lectures acupuncture at the Endeavour College of Natural Medicine. Marianne has also studied cranial sacral therapy. This study has given her a broader spectrum to understand how acupuncture works.
